

Fall 2023 Environmental Humanities Courses

Foundational Environmental Humanities Class Options

ANT 1307 The Evolution of Human Societies: An Interdisciplinary Perspective

ENG 2310-American Literary Culture \(EHUM\), Section taught by Sarah Ford

ENV 1301 & 1101 Exploring Environmental Issues & Lab

ENV 2376 Environment and Society

FYS 1399 (For HONS students) Child Migration in the Western Hemisphere

HIS 1300 US in Global Perspective \(EHUM\), Section taught by Elesha Coffman

HIS 1300 US in Global Perspective (EHUM), Section taught by Bracy Hill

GEO 1306 The Earth Through Time

GEO 1401 Earthquakes and Other Natural Disasters

GEO 1402 World Oceans

PHI 1308 Contemporary Moral Problems (EHUM), Section taught by Michael Beaty

Humanities and the Environment Class Options

ENG 3360 Literature and the Environment

PHI 4310 Philosophy of Science

Social and Natural Sciences Approaches to the Environment and Human Ecologies Class Options

ANT 3320/ENV 3320 Environment and Human Behavior

BIO 3320 Climate Change Biology

ENV 1303 Wildlife Ecology

ENV 2307 Ecology for a Changing World

ENV 3314/BIO 3315 Introduction to Environmental Health

ENV/PSC 4307 Environmental Law

PSC/ENV 3300 The Environment and Political Processes

SWO 4322-01 Social Policy for Social Work Practice (EHUM), Section Taught by Stephanie Boddie

Additional Courses that Can Serve as Electives:

PPS 1100 Community Gardening-Growing Community

PPS 1100 Community Gardening